

The Cup Cake Man - the Losing Tale

"Yes it's finally ready!" said the old lady as she opened the oven. Out popped a little cup cake man.

"Run, run, as fast as you can. You can't catch me I'm the cup cake man!" he chanted. The little old lady ran as fast as her skinny legs could carry her.

On the way, the poor cup cake man got chased by more and more animals.

First of all was the cat, its sharp claws one centimetre away from his face.

Next was the crocodile, its blood-thirsty jaws watering as he watched his every move.

Last but not least, was the giant cup cake monster! He knew there was only one weakness for a cup cake - rain. But how? He couldn't bring the rain to them. But he could bring the monster to the water...

"Come over here, you pathetic wimp!"

"Uh, yummy," he sang. He chased him all the way to the lake.
